

FOURTH ANNUAL COLLEGE OF EDUCATION - PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION UNIT RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM

Saturday, March 31, 2012
10 a.m. to 3 p.m.
Thompson Hall W101

Teacher Education Club
of SUNY Fredonia

The College of Education is planning a Research Symposium for faculty and students to present their research and projects related to the field of education.

Benefits for Students

This event provides an opportunity for undergraduate and graduate students to participate in professional development beyond the classroom, which is essential for all teacher candidates. Participation as a presenter provides an opportunity for constructive feedback from area teachers, faculty, and peers on research and presentation. Participation as an attendee provides an opportunity to add to one's knowledge base evidence-based repertoire of effective instructional practices.

Benefits for Faculty

This event provides a way for faculty to share their work and to connect with students who may be interested in learning more about faculty scholarship and/or working with faculty on their research. Faculty may co-present with students.

Benefits for Practicing Educators

This event provides practicing educators with an opportunity to connect with undergraduate and graduate students who present research on topics that are of interest to practicing educators or that are already in use in practicing educators' classrooms. Practicing educators may co-present with students and/or faculty.

Special Benefits for College of Education Faculty and Students

This Symposium experience provides all members of the College of Education the opportunity to share their ideas about important educational topics and to engage in interesting dialogue about educational research and action projects.

FOURTH ANNUAL COLLEGE OF EDUCATION - PROFESSIONAL EDUCATION UNIT RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM

March 31, 2012
10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The College of Education invites presentations and interactive poster sessions for the Fourth Annual College of Education-Professional Education Unit Research Symposium. The goal of this conference is to afford both undergraduate and graduate students opportunities for professional development on various topics relating to education. This event also provides an opportunity for professionals and graduates to highlight their research and action projects. We invite submissions for 45 minute workshops or as part of the 60 minute poster session. The Symposium theme is:

Partnerships for Success! Transforming P-12 Schools and Teacher Preparation

Topics may include such issues as:

- Teaching-Learning Projects from field-based courses
- Faculty Research related to school improvement, etc.
- Graduate thesis projects related to improvement of student achievement.

Participants will include SUNY Fredonia graduate and undergraduate students, faculty, as well as practicing educators from the community. All configurations of presentations are invited (e.g., students with students, students with faculty, faculty with faculty). Presenters are responsible for providing handouts or links to material if desired.

Deadline for submitting a proposal is Friday, March 2, 2012, 4 p.m.

Submissions should be completed via the online form found at www.fredonia.edu/coe.

Notice of Symposium Proposal Review Committee acceptances will be e-mailed by Friday, March 16, 2012.
