Bachelor of Arts in Psychology, Counseling and Health Track

Program Requirements (35 credits):

Core Group – all required
- PSY 129 – Introduction to Psychology (3 credits)
- PSY 130 – Psychology Laboratory (1 credit)
- PSY 200 – Statistics (3 credits)
- PSY 210 – Research Methods (4 credits)

Group A – Psychophysiology
- PSY 351 – Physiological Psychology (3 credits)

Group B – Cognitive (3 credits)
- PSY 244 – Cognitive Psychology or
- PSY 344 – Psychology of Language or
- PSY 364 – Cognitive Development

Group C – Social (3 credits)
- PSY 245 – Social Psychology or
- PSY 246 – Personality or
- PSY 365 – Social Development

Group D – Clinical/Counseling
- PSY 356 – Abnormal Psychology (3 credits)

Theoretical Thinking (3 credits), either
- PSY 429 – History and Systems or
- PSY 430 – Theories of Psychology or
- PSY 439 – Senior Honors Seminar or
- PSY 445 – Seminar in Social Psychology or
- PSY 454 – Theories of Memory

Additional Requirements in PSY:
PSY 447 – Introduction to Counseling, PSY 247 – Health Psychology, and PSY 317 – Tests and Measurement. Please note that one course completed for this track must have a developmental focus. PSY 364, PSY 365, PSY 379, and PSY 349 meet this requirement. PSY 364 and PSY 365 may count here as well as in the groupings above.

2. Courses outside PSY: BIO 110 (Human Biology), one 3-credit course in MAT (105, 106, 108, 110, 120, or 122) and completion of a minor or other major