

The State University of New York at Fredonia is committed to doing our part to provide each student a clear path to graduation. This four-year degree plan is a sample map for fulfilling requirements in the major, the College Core Curriculum (CCC), and other supporting courses. The pathway that you take to your degree may differ somewhat from this illustration, depending on where you start and the detours and side trips you may take along the way. If you are committed to completing your degree in four years, we encourage you to consider signing up for the Fredonia in 4 program. For complete information about this degree program, please consult the university catalog at fredonia.smartcatalogiq.com

The B.S.E.d. Early Childhood/ Childhood Education degree prepares graduates to become certified in New York State to teach children from Birth to Grade 6.

The Early Childhood/ Childhood Education program prepares candidates to assume the role of the general education teacher with specific understanding of the unique needs of children across this age range. They are prepared to link and apply knowledge of child development content and teaching strategies to match children's ways of learning. Through a series of early field-based experiences, program candidates have multiple opportunities to plan, instruct, reflect, and respond to learner needs - setting the foundation for their future success in schools.

Why Study Teacher Education at Fredonia?

Education is a field of study that deals with the methods of teaching and learning in schools.

Begin your career path on Day 1

- You can declare a major and enroll in education classes right away.
- You'll receive field placements every semester, starting as a freshman — all the way until your senior year student teaching placement.
- Fredonia's Office of Field Experiences makes sure you're always on track, providing you feedback every step of the way.

Becoming 'classroom ready' makes you marketable

- 96% of Fredonia graduates from the Class of 2014 report being employed in their field of study or pursuing an advanced degree.
- You'll complete at least three field-based experiences in schools with a cooperating teacher prior to student teaching, and work as an instructional assistant in a classroom.
- Placements are available in more than 180 schools in nearly 60 districts. You can even student teach in New York City.

What can you do with a degree in Education?

- Teach in public and private schools or community colleges.
- Serve as a superintendent or other administrator at school districts.
- Become an educator with museums, zoos and other cultural entities.
- Work as education writers/beat reporters for newspapers and other publications.
- Become a staff trainer for employees at companies of all sizes.
- Become a marketing representative or writer for an educational text book company.

Exceptional professors

- You're taught by faculty who aren't just academics — they're experienced P-12 teachers.
- Fredonia's faculty remain active in local school districts by volunteering in classrooms and working with teachers on curricular and instructional innovations.
- Many courses are taught onsite in local schools.
- Fredonia's classes are typically fewer than 25 students, giving you plenty of contact with professors who challenge you as you grow and give you valuable support and feedback.

Awards and Scholarships

- Fredonia has nearly 30 awards and scholarships available exclusively for Education majors. Students can apply to as many as are appropriate in any given year.

Accomplished Education alumni

- Thousands of teachers, superintendents and other school administrators are proud Fredonia graduates — in every state, and countries around the world — providing you with a powerful, influential network of alumni throughout your career.

You're ready for the challenge.
