Directions: Please assess the level of competence your student demonstrates in each of the practice areas listed below. For each section of competency, please tell us your evaluation by placing an (X) or a checkmark in one of the appropriate columns:

Please use the following scale for your ratings:

1	The intern has not met the expectations in this area, and I do not anticipate that the intern will meet the expectations in this area in the near future.
2	The intern has not as of yet met the expectations in this area, but I anticipate that the intern will meet the expectations in the near future.
3	The intern has meet the expectations in this area.
4	The intern is functioning above expectations in this area.
5	The intern has excelled in this area.

Since this evaluation will be used to compute the student's final grade for their practicum course, it is important to get an accurate and thorough assessment. So, if more than one person supervised the student during the academic year, please consult all parties before completing this form.

After you have completed the form, please review your final evaluation with the student, so they will know where they have grown over the academic year and where they have opportunities for growth.

Should you have questions, please consult your Field Liaison. Please return this form to W383 Thompson Hall, State University of New York Fredonia, Fredonia, New York, 14063 no later than Wednesday May 2nd at 3:00 pm.

Thank you for serving as a Field Instructor.

Part 1: Competencies

COMP 1: Demonstrate Ethical and Professional Behavior

Social workers understand the value base of the profession and its ethical standards, as well as relevant laws and regulations that may impact practice at the micro, mezzo, and macro levels. Social workers understand frameworks of ethical decision-making and how to apply principles of critical thinking to those frameworks in practice, research, and policy arenas. Social workers recognize personal values and the distinction between personal and professional values. They also understand how their personal experiences and affective reactions influence their professional judgment and behavior. Social workers understand the profession’s history, its mission, and the roles and responsibilities of the profession. Social Workers also understand the role of other professions when engaged in inter-professional teams. Social workers recognize the importance of life-long learning and are committed to continually updating their skills to ensure they are relevant and effective. Social workers also understand emerging forms of technology and the ethical use of technology in social work practice. Social workers:

Practice Behaviors	Competency Not Met		Competency Met		Competency Exceeded
	1	2	3	4	5
1. make ethical decisions by applying the standards of the NASW Code of Ethics, relevant laws and regulations, models for ethical decision-making, ethical conduct of research, and additional codes of ethics as appropriate to context;
2. use reflection and self-regulation to manage personal values and maintain professionalism in practice situations;
3. demonstrate professional demeanor in behavior; appearance; and oral, written, and electronic communication;
4. use technology ethically and appropriately to facilitate practice outcomes; and
5. use supervision and consultation to guide professional judgment and behavior.

COMP 2: Engage Diversity and Difference in Practice

Social workers understand how diversity and difference characterize and shape the human experience and are critical to the formation of identity. The dimensions of diversity are understood as the intersectionality of multiple factors including but not limited to age, class, color, culture, disability and ability, ethnicity, gender, gender identity and expression, immigration status, marital status, political ideology, race, religion/spirituality, sex, sexual orientation, and tribal sovereign status. Social workers understand that, as a consequence of difference, a person’s life experiences may include oppression, poverty, marginalization, and alienation as well as privilege, power, and acclaim. Social workers also understand the forms and mechanisms of oppression and discrimination and recognize the extent to which a culture’s structures and values, including social, economic, political, and cultural exclusions, may oppress, marginalize, alienate, or create privilege and power. Social workers:

Practice Behaviors	Competency Not Met		Competency Met		Competency Exceeded
	1	2	3	4	5
1. apply and communicate understanding of the importance of diversity and difference in shaping life experiences in practice at the micro, mezzo, and macro levels;
2. present themselves as learners and engage clients and constituencies as experts of their own experiences; and
3. apply self-awareness and self-regulation to manage the influence of personal biases and values in working with diverse clients and constituencies.
