Native American Heritage Month

November is Native American Heritage Month, which acknowledges and celebrates the contributions of the Natives.

The Native American Student Union (NASU) is making a goal to show their culture's resiliency and strength with hashtag

#WEAREHERE

I Need Your Help!

2/2

I am creating a collage of Native American Students with #WeAreStillHere. My ultimate goal of this project is to show our resilience and to make sure it is known that We Are Still Here! NASU has always emphasized resilience, and part of that includes having students like us carrying that strength with us into the world. I want to use this hashtag and posts on social media as a way to show that resilience on a widespread platform. Now this is where I need your help! If you are a Native American student at Fredonia that is willing to participate, I ask that you simply send me a picture of yourself. This picture can be a simple nice headshot of yourself, or it can be something like you at a cultural event here or in your community, sports, family, etc... Again the goal is to show some Native Pride!

DM us on social media or email FredoniaNASU@gmail.com for more info and to send pictures!
